

UAE Will.

Protect your family from Sharia court.

Without a will, UAE assets are distributed under Sharia law. A DIFC or ADJD Will locks in your wishes and protects heirs on your terms.

Why You Need a Will in the UAE

CONTEXT

By default, assets of non-residents and residents in the UAE are inherited under Sharia: fixed shares, courts can freeze accounts and property. DIFC Wills Service Centre or ADJD allows you to register a will under your national law. This is the only reliable way to protect your family.

What You Get

OUTCOME

Legal Protection

A DIFC or ADJD-registered will takes priority over Sharia distribution.

Asset Control

You decide who receives property, accounts, company shares, and other assets.

Minor Protection

Guardianship is fixed in the will. Children are protected.

Speed of Execution

A will accelerates asset transfer. Without it — months of court proceedings.

How It Works
